

“Good morning to you good morning to you...”

“This is the way we wash our hands wash our hands wash our hands...”

“Toys away toys away time to put the toys away...”

Juliette Nehring is looking forward to sharing her love of music, art, and nature with your children. She has been a mother for over 20 years and has over 25 years of experience as an early childhood and music education specialist. Her thoughtful and intuitive approach and love of children has led her through years of training and enrichment to developing her own programs.

In Juliette's life, music has always been a joy which she shares with her own children as well as others. From her very beginning, music and performing have always been a part of Juliette's life and family. Raised in a musical family, she was creating and sharing music with others throughout her childhood. With a degree in music from Butler University and specialties in music education, vocal music, and literature, Juliette has been formally studying and teaching all ages since 1990.

She has enjoyed positions as music specialist and after school instructor in several Indianapolis area elementary schools, preschools, camps, and nursing homes as well as teaching private lessons and group classes.

Dana Sofie' is an artist working and living in Chicago and Indianapolis. Currently working on dual Bachelors of Fine Arts and Bachelors of Arts in Visual and Critical Studies degrees at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, she has an interdisciplinary and process-oriented approach to art making. She has several years experience teaching enrichment classes in camps and schools.

She has exhibited at Clowes Hall in Indianapolis, and in Fountain Square, as well as at SAIC in Chicago.

Imagine a day full of music, art, and nature, a day in which you sing and play through joys and challenges. You discover and learn and come to understand yourself, and what you can do, in a whole new way. It is a day of expression and introspection.

That is the kind of day we offer your child.

We use music to stimulate and calm, to transition, redirect, and focus.

Music is woven into the fabric of our day from our greeting songs, through our morning music class, to singing about each of our activities and tasks, and ending with singing goodbye.

Singing is only one of the many ways we will express ourselves musically through the day. Even very young children are able and eager to use their voices, move, listen, and play simple instruments.

The natural world is an integral part of our learning. Both our indoor and outdoor areas are arranged to promote discovery and development in a variety of areas, and to connect with the natural world. The children have opportunities for dramatic play, building, fine motor development, gross motor development, language and literacy. They will have opportunities throughout the day to have active time, messy time, and quiet time.

Visual Arts are important tools, channeling expression and communication of thoughts, feelings, and ideas of people of all ages. In our open and explorative environment, we will use a wide variety of mediums and processes and the influence of the natural world around us, as well as our individual understanding of the world, to create unique artworks.
